

Title: Entertaining Angels Unaware

Scripture:

“Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.” — Hebrews 13:2 (KJV)

---

Message:

The writer of Hebrews gives us a gentle but powerful reminder — to show hospitality, for in doing so, some have hosted heavenly visitors without realizing it.

In Genesis 18, Abraham sat at the entrance of his tent during the heat of the day. When he saw three men standing nearby, he didn't hesitate. He ran to meet them, bowed low, and offered water, food, and rest. Those “men” were angels — and one was the Lord Himself. Abraham's kindness opened the door for a divine encounter. That day, God confirmed the promise that Sarah would bear a son.

In the next chapter, Genesis 19, two angels arrived in Sodom and were welcomed by Lot, who urged them to stay in his home. Lot's hospitality not only honored God but ultimately saved his life and the lives of his family.

Hospitality in the Bible is not merely about sharing a meal — it's about sharing love, protection, and dignity with others, whether or not they seem deserving. Jesus said,

“I was a stranger, and ye took me in” (Matthew 25:35).

When we show kindness to others, we are serving Christ Himself.

---

Story: “The Homeless Visitor”

A small-town pastor once prepared for Sunday service when a disheveled man walked into the church. His clothes were worn, and his smell turned heads. Some members frowned and shifted away as he sat quietly in the back.

After service, the pastor approached him and offered a warm smile, a handshake, and a meal. The man's eyes filled with tears. He said softly, "You don't know what this means. I was going to end my life today, but I asked God to send me a sign that He still cared."

The pastor never saw the man again — but he often wondered if that encounter was more than it appeared.

---

Lesson:

God still sends "angels" — sometimes heavenly, sometimes human — to test, teach, or bless us. The person we overlook, ignore, or pass by may carry a message from God Himself.

So let us live with open hands and open hearts, ready to welcome others in Christ's name.

For as Hebrews 13:2 reminds us —

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."

---

Would you like me to make a children's version or a sermon outline of this message too?

Here's a short sermon on "Entertaining Angels" based on Hebrews 13:2, Genesis 18–19, and related scriptures — complete with a story:

---

Title: Entertaining Angels Unaware

Scripture:

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." — Hebrews 13:2 (KJV)

---

Message:

The writer of Hebrews gives us a gentle but powerful reminder — to show hospitality, for in doing so, some have hosted heavenly visitors without realizing it.

In Genesis 18, Abraham sat at the entrance of his tent during the heat of the day. When he saw three men standing nearby, he didn't hesitate. He ran to meet them, bowed low, and offered water, food, and rest. Those "men" were angels — and one was the Lord Himself. Abraham's kindness opened the door for a divine encounter. That day, God confirmed the promise that Sarah would bear a son.

In the next chapter, Genesis 19, two angels arrived in Sodom and were welcomed by Lot, who urged them to stay in his home. Lot's hospitality not only honored God but ultimately saved his life and the lives of his family.

Hospitality in the Bible is not merely about sharing a meal — it's about sharing love, protection, and dignity with others, whether or not they seem deserving. Jesus said,

"I was a stranger, and ye took me in" (Matthew 25:35).

When we show kindness to others, we are serving Christ Himself.

---

Story: "The Homeless Visitor"

A small-town pastor once prepared for Sunday service when a disheveled man walked into the church. His clothes were worn, and his smell turned heads. Some members frowned and shifted away as he sat quietly in the back.

After service, the pastor approached him and offered a warm smile, a handshake, and a meal. The man's eyes filled with tears. He said softly, "You don't know what this means. I was going to end my life today, but I asked God to send me a sign that He still cared."

The pastor never saw the man again — but he often wondered if that encounter was more than it appeared.

---

Lesson:

God still sends “angels” — sometimes heavenly, sometimes human — to test, teach, or bless us. The person we overlook, ignore, or pass by may carry a message from God Himself.

So let us live with open hands and open hearts, ready to welcome others in Christ’s name.

For as Hebrews 13:2 reminds us —

“Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.”

---